

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method in a wireless broadcast/multicast service subscriber systems including selecting (410) a paging slot for communicating broadcast/multicast subscriber information, communicating (420) broadcast /multicast identification information corresponding to the slot on which broadcast/multicast subscriber information may be obtained by a broadcast/multicast service subscriber device, and communicating broadcast/multicast service information on the paging slot selected (430). Subscriber devices obtain the broadcast/multicast information using the slot identified by the identification information.